Performance

All asset classes managed to find their way up in June, but the returns were not very exuberant. Although the coronavirus is not yet under control in many countries, the economic news is often positive. For example, retail spending and industrial production in the US, France and Germany, among others, recovered faster than expected. Still, according to the IMF, there are concerns that the economic recovery will take longer than initially thought. All DD-funds outperformed the market in June. The DD Equity Fund in particular performed well with a return of 3%.

In June, the returns for the various profiles ranged from 1.5% for the most defensive profile to 2.9% for the most offensive profile. The neutral profile achieved a return of 2.1% last month, but is still at a loss of 5.3% for the whole of 2020.

Tactical asset allocation

Each investment profile has a strategic allocation with bandwidths to equities, bonds and alternatives. The table below gives an overview of the five different standard investment profiles (without bandwidths). The classifications of risk profiles are motivated by the AFM (the Dutch Authority for the Financial Markets) and mainly based on historical risks and returns.

RISK PROFILES	defensive	moderate defensive	neutral	offensive	very offensive
Equities	10%	25%	40%	60%	80%
Bonds	85%	65%	45%	25%	10%
Alternatives	5%	10%	15%	15%	10%
Cash	0%	0%	0%	0%	0%
Total	100%	100%	100%	100%	100%

We respond to the current market conditions by putting weights (within the bandwidths) to the various asset classes: equities, bonds and alternatives. We call this the tactical asset allocation. Since the end of May, we have had a slight overweight in bonds at the expense of alternatives (real estate). Although the outlook for bonds is less than average due to low interest rates, the risk is also lower. For real estate, the valuation is attractive, but the risks have increased due to the corona virus. Equities have the best outlook in the long term, but given the risks of, for example, an economic slowdown (due to the corona virus), we are a bit more cautious and maintain a large cash position in the DD Equity Fund.
